

Cash for Query Case

Why in news?

The Lok Sabha Ethics Committee will take up Nishikant Dubey's complaint of cash for query against Mahua Moitra.

What is the issue?

An allegation of corruption against an MP can be sent to either Ethics Committee or Privileges Committee, but usually more serious accusations go to the latter.

The Ethics Committee can take up only cases of misconduct that involve MPs while Privileges Committee includes both MPs and non- MPs.

- MP Nishikant Dubey has accused MP Mahua Moitra of asking questions in Parliament in exchange for bribes from a businessman named Darshan Hiranandani, who wanted to target the Adani Group and Prime Minister Narendra Modi.
- However, Moitra has denied the allegations.
- Recently, Parliamentary Ethics Committee has started hearing the case.

2005 Cash-for-Query Case

- In 2005, a sting operation unveiled 11 MPs who allegedly showed willingness to promote a company and ask questions in the House in exchange for money.
- Based on the parliamentary committee's findings, 10 Lok Sabha MPs were expelled from the lower house.
- Following an investigation into the matter by its Ethics Committee, Rajya Sabha also expelled 1 MP.
- In 2007, the expulsion was upheld by the Supreme Court, which said in the Raja Ram Pal Ram Pal v/s The Hon'Ble Speaker case, that the power of expulsion was part of the privileges and immunities of Parliament.

What is ethics committee?

- History- Vohra committee report submitted in 1995 pointed out the nexus between criminal gangs, police, bureaucracy and politicians have come clearly out in various parts of the country.
- Recommendations - A Presiding Officers' Conference held in Delhi in 1996 first mooted the idea of ethics panels for the two Houses.
- Committee of Privileges recommended the constitution of an Ethics Committee during the 13th Lok Sabha.
- Aim - To oversee the moral and ethical conduct of members and examine cases of misconduct referred to it.

- The rules applicable to the Committee of Privileges also apply to the ethics panel.
