

CBFC culls Documentary

Why in news?

\n\n

Central Board of Film Certification (CBFC) has refused to clear a documentary on Amartya Sen called 'The Argumentative Indian' until words such as "Cow", "Gujarat", "Hindutva" and "Hindu Rashtra" are either expunged or beeped out.

\n\n

What is the reason behind?

\n\n

\n

- The organisation, set up to protect the public from the excesses of cinema, now presumes to cull the thoughts of one of India's foremost public intellectuals.

\n

- In this case, the CBFC is upset over Sen's views on cow vigilantism and concomitant lynchings, the Gujarat riots and the project to spread Hindutva ideology.

\n

- So, CBFC says that the documentary shouldn't jeopardize the security in Gujarat.

\n

- "Gujarat" is not the first place name that the board has objected to. Nihalani had earlier issued a list of banned terms which included "Bombay".

\n

- The arbitrariness had caused the CBFC much embarrassment when the list was leaked.

\n

\n\n

What does it imply?

\n\n

\n

- CBFC, nowadays, is showing an unhealthy enthusiasm for censoring rather than certifying, which is the statutorily defined purpose.

\n

- The matter is already being painted as a move to curb free speech.
- This government has been seen to be impatient with its critics.
- It has even allowed a disabling environment to develop which favours authorised versions, and it curbs or trashes alternative opinions.
- It is having a stifling effect on creative expression in cinema, reflecting the attenuation of the public discourse.
- This hounding of authors and filmmakers has been damaging for democracy.

\n

What is CBFC?

\n\n

\n

- It is a statutory body under Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, regulating the public exhibition of films under the provisions of the Cinematograph Act 1952.
- Films can be publicly exhibited in India only after they have been certified by the Central Board of Film Certification.
- The Board consists of non-official members and a Chairman (all of whom are appointed by Central Government).
- It functions with headquarters at Mumbai and has nine Regional offices.
