

Coalition Government

Why in news?

Recently, Coalition politics has made a comeback at the national stage after 10 years of a de facto one-party rule.

What is a coalition government?

- Coalition The term 'coalition' is derived from the Latin word 'coalitio-' which means 'to grow together'.
- Thus, technically, coalition means the act of uniting parts into one body or whole.
- Politically, coalition means an alliance of distinct political parties.
- Coalition government When several political parties join hands to form a government and exercise political power on the basis of a common agreed programme or agenda.
- Basis of coalition It is a direct descendant of the exigencies
- of multi-party system in a democratic set-up.
- It is a phenomenon of a multi-party government where a number of minority parties join hands for the purpose of running the government.
- Forms of alliance It can be formed in two ways
 - Pre-poll alliance
 - Post-election alliance
- Power Sharing Power is distributed among the coalition partners, with key positions such as the Prime Minister or Chief Minister and various ministerial roles shared according to pre-agreed terms.
- Features Coalitions are formed for the sake of some reward, material or psychic.
- It implies the existence of at least two partners.
- The underlying principle of a coalition system stands on the simple fact of temporary conjunction of specific interest.
- It is not a static but a dynamic affair as coalition players and groups dissolve and form new ones.
- The keynote of coalition politics is compromise, and rigid dogma has no place in it.
- A coalition government works on the basis of a minimum programme, which may not be ideal for each partner of the coalition.
- Pragmatism and not ideology is the hallmark of coalition politics.
- The purpose of coalition adjustment is to seize power.

What are factors for emergence of coalition government in India?

- Decline of single-party dominance The decline of the Indian National Congress's dominance in the late 1960s and 1970s led to a more fragmented political landscape, requiring coalition arrangements to form governments.
- Rise of regional parties The emergence of strong regional parties with significant voter bases contributed to the fragmentation of national parties, making coalition necessary to achieve a majority.
- Diverse electorate India's diverse electorate, with varying regional, linguistic, and cultural interests, led to the formation of coalitions to address the interests of different groups and regions.
- Internal party fragmentation Fragmentation within major parties, often results in the formation of splinter groups that align with others to form a coalition.
- Strategic political alliance Strategic alliances between parties, either to counter common rivals or to leverage shared interests, have led to the formation of coalition governments.
- Post-Emergency political landscape After the Emergency period (1975-1977), there was a push for more inclusive and representative governance, leading to the rise of coalition politics as a way to reflect a broader spectrum of political views.
- Electoral system At times, the first-past-the-post electoral system may ensure that no single party wins an outright majority thus prompting for coalition partnerships.
