What is the issue?

 $n\n$

\n

• The last date for filing claims and objections for Assam's National Register of Citizens (NRC) has been extended by the Supreme Court by 15 days from December 15, 2018.

۱n

• The outcome of the NRC exercise has implications for India's ties with Bangladesh.

Why is Bangladesh significant for India?

 $n\n$

\n

 According to the latest available Bangladesh government estimates of 2009, more than 500,000 Indians were working in Bangladesh.

\n

• More recently, Bangladesh was reported to be among the highest source of remittances to India, behind the UAE, the U.S., Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the U.K.

- Many Indian citizens are securing employment opportunities in Bangladesh through MNCs, NGOs and trading activities.
- Most of them are employed in advantageous jobs in Bangladesh while Bangladeshis in India are largely employed in low-paying jobs.
- More importantly, it is to be noted that there are legal as well as illegal Indian immigrants in Bangladesh too.

What is the tussle?

 $n\n$

\n

- \bullet The government maintains that the NRC is an administrative task overseen by the Supreme Court, and not a political one. $$
- \bullet However, some members of the ruling party have been making hateful antimigration and anti-Bangladeshi comments. \n
- \bullet This reflects poorly on the prevalent positive relationship between Bangladesh and India.
- Also, Indian PM has assured the Bangladesh government that those excluded from the NRC will not be deported.
- But Bangladesh has so far been silent on the issue, terming it as an 'internal matter of India'.
- Notably, Bangladesh is already at the extremes in terms of use of resources and manpower to host Rohingya refugees.
- So it would not be acceding to a request of taking back Bengali-speaking Muslims in case deportation is initiated.

How is India's 'Neighbourhood First' policy performing?

 $n\n$

\n

- The 'Neighbourhood First' policy of the Government of India seems to be undergoing a transformation in the recent period.
- Nepal Nepal, once a time-tested ally of India, has tilted towards China.
- This is particularly since the 2015 Nepal blockade barring the entry of fuel, medicine and other vital supplies.
- Nepal now has been given access to four Chinese ports at Tianjin, Shenzhen, Lianyungang and Zhanjiang.

- This is in addition to access to its dry (land) ports at Lanzhou, Lhasa and Xigatse, as well as roads to these facilities.
- These seem to be ending India's monopoly to Nepal's trading routes.
- Bhutan The India-Bhutan relationship has also been strained.
- This is witnessed ever since India temporarily withdrew subsidies on cooking gas and kerosene in 2013, constraining bilateral ties.
- \bullet The Doklam stand-off of 2017 reinforced Bhutan's scepticism towards Chinese expansionist plans across the region. $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$
- Simultaneously, this landlocked kingdom has been underlining its aspiration to affirm its sovereignty.
- E.g. it has stepped out of India's diplomatic influence, as evidenced by its withdrawal from BBIN (Bangladesh-Bhutan-India-Nepal) motor vehicles agreement
- Bangladesh With China making inroads into South Asia and India's backyard, Bangladesh has been the most trusted ally of India.
- \bullet On the security front, it has cooperated in India's crackdown on insurgents. $\ensuremath{^{\text{\sc Nn}}}$
- With close cooperation with Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB), a number of training places and hideouts of these insurgents (in Bangladesh) has been reduced to almost zero.
- Annual bilateral trade is set to cross the $9 billion mark, making it India's biggest trading partner in South Asia.
- In addition, Bangladesh has facilitated connectivity with the Northeast by allowing the use of Chittagong and Mongla ports.
- \bullet However, the following issues remain unresolved, being irritants in the relationship $\ensuremath{\mbox{\sc h}}$

 $n\n$

- i. the Teesta water-sharing issue \n
- ii. non-tariff barriers on Bangladeshi exports

iii. border killings \n

 $n\n$

\n

• Others - The India-China power play has also cast its shadow over Sri Lanka and the Maldives in the last few years.

 $n\n$

What do these imply?

 $n\n$

\n

- \bullet The NRC compilation exercise has sparked a debate around its political, economic and humanitarian consequences. $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$
- ullet The issue threatens to disturb the equilibrium in India-Bangladesh ties.
- \bullet Any deportation of those not in the NRC list is not only politically unwise but also risk inciting unrest across the region. \n
