

Inter-Creditor Agreement - Banks Resolution

Why in news?

\n\n

More than a dozen of lenders led by State Bank of India recently signed the inter-creditor agreement (ICA).

\n\n

What is the agreement on?

\n\n

\n

- The agreement is part of the proposed Project Sashakt.

\n

- “Sashakt” plan is approved by the government to address the problem of resolving bad loans.

\n

- The objective is to use this ICA for faster facilitation of resolution of stressed assets.

\n

- It is aimed at the resolution of loan accounts with a size of Rs. 50 crore and above that are under the control of a group of lenders.

\n

\n\n

How did it evolve?

\n\n

\n

- Over the last few years, stressed assets resolution has been a challenge, despite RBI's consistent direction to banks.

\n

- A panel led by banker Sunil Mehta identified the disagreement among joint lenders as the biggest problem in resolution.

\n

- It recommended the bank-led resolution approach in the form of inter-creditor agreement.

\n

- This is an improvement on the earlier model of solely relying on the joint lenders' forum to arrive at a consensus.

\n

\n\n

What are the provisions?

\n\n

\n

- If 66% of the lenders agree to a resolution plan it would be binding on all lenders.

\n

\n\n

\n

- A 'dissenting creditor' is that which votes against or abstains from voting for the resolution plan approved by the committee.

\n

- A dissenting creditor could sell its loan at a discount of 15% of the liquidation value to other lenders.

\n

- Liquidation value is the amount at which a company could sell its assets and settle liabilities.

\n

- Another option is to sell their loans to any person at a price mutually arrived between dissenting lender and the buyer.

\n

- However, it cannot sell it to an asset reconstruction company.

\n

- The agreement has a standstill clause wherein all lenders are barred from enforcing any legal action against the borrower.

\n

- During standstill period, lenders are also barred from transferring or assigning their loan to any other person except a bank or finance company.

\n

\n\n

What are the concerns?

\n\n

\n

- The obligation on the lead lender to come up with a time-bound resolution plan can have unintended consequences.

\n

- Banks may be compelled to engage in a rush sale of stressed assets due to arbitrary deadlines.
\n
- This will work against the interests of lenders looking to get the best price for their stressed assets.
\n
- Besides, the biggest challenge to bad loan resolution is the absence of buyers to purchase stressed assets.
\n
- There is also the unwillingness of banks to sell their loans at a deep discount to their face value.
