Alternate Minimum Tax

In order to provide a level playing field between co-operative societies and companies, the Government proposed to reduce the Alternate Minimum Tax rate for co-operative societies from the current 18.5% to 15%

- Initially, the concept of Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) was introduced for companies and progressively it has been made applicable to all other taxpayers in the form of Alternate Minimum Tax (AMT).
- Due to increase in the number of zero taxpaying companies, MAT was introduced by the Finance Act, 1987.
- Later on, it was withdrawn by the Finance Act, 1990 and then reintroduced by Finance Act, 1996.
- The objective of introducing MAT is to bring into the tax net “zero tax companies”.
- These companies in spite of having earned substantial book profits and having paid handsome dividends, do not pay any tax due to various tax concessions and incentives provided under the Income-tax Law.
- MAT is levied at the rate of 9% (plus surcharge and cess as applicable) in case of a company, being a unit of an International Financial Services Centre and deriving its income solely in convertible foreign exchange.
- Applicability - As per section 115JB of the I-T Act, every taxpayer being a company is liable to pay MAT, if the Income-tax (including surcharge and cess) payable on the total income, computed as per the Income-tax Act in respect of any year is less than 15% of its book-profit + surcharge (SC) + health & education cess.
- However, the provisions of MAT are not applicable on:
 1. The domestic companies which have opted for tax regimes under Section 115BAA or Section 115BAB;
 2. Any income accruing or arising to a company from the life insurance business referred to

- in Section 115B;
3. Shipping company, the income of which is subject to tonnage taxation.
