Metal bangle to track malnutrition

 $n\n$

\n

• A mid-arm bangle with a 23 cm circumference is devised to inform health workers in Bihar if a woman is malnourished.

• If the thickness of the arm is more than 23 cm, a woman above 19 years can be called healthy.

\n

- But if the arm's thickness in 23 cm or less, she would be categorised as "malnourished" and advised dietary correctives.
- The method is indicative and not a replacement of existing methods Body Mass Index and sundry pathological tests to know health status.
