International Maritime Organisation

\n\n

\n

- It is the global standard-setting authority for the safety, security & environmental performance of international shipping by creating a regulatory framework for the shipping industry.

\n

- It is the only UN special agency to have its headquarters in the United Kingdom.

\n

- It is the first ever international organization devoted exclusively to maritime matters.

\n

- The objective of IMO is the improvement of Maritime safety and the prevention of marine pollution

\n

- India has been a member of the IMO since 1959.

\n

- There are three category of membership in the organization.

\n

- Category A has countries which have interest in providing international shipping services.

\n

- Category-B has large nations with interest in international seaborne trade.

\n

- Category-C has special interests in maritime transport or navigation.

\n

- Currently, India has Category-B membership and it hopes to get an upgrade in IMO status to Category - A membership.

\n

- It would enable India to be part of the several committees of the body, which would essentially mean greater participation in the decision-making process.

\n

- Ten nations such as China, Greece, Italy, Japan, Norway, Panama, Republic of Korea, Russian Federation, the UK and the US are in Category-A.

Indian Emerald Dragonfly

\n\n

- \n
 - It is a rare variety of dragonfly known to exist only in the Travancore hills of Kerala.
 - \n
 - It made a dramatic reappearance 83 years, as it was sighted in the Periyar Tiger Reserve (PTR) during an odonata survey.
 - \n
 - Odonata is an order of carnivorous insects that includes dragonflies and damselflies.
 - \n
 - It lives around forest streams and micro habitat near high altitude areas.
 - \n
 - It is easy to spot because it flies irregularly over the water body for nearly an hour

- \n
 - Thus it acts as an indicator of the health of water bodies inside sanctuaries and reserves.

\n

- If a particular habitat is disturbed by pollution, the species won't be able to survive.
