What was the recent decision on emergency?

 $n\n$

۱'n

- The ruling Maldives administration under President Abdulla Yameen has lifted the emergency declared 45days earlier.
- The opposition parties believe that the emergency was lifted only because present administration has established total control over the judiciary and parliament.

۱n

 $\bullet$  Therefore, it is supposed that lifting the emergency does not automatically amount to status quo ante.  $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$

What is the status of Indo-Maldivian ties?

 $n\n$

\n

- After the announcement of emergency India made a public statements of disapproval on the emergency for which Male has reacted India's statements of disapproval were "not helpful at all".
- Recently India made a statement that the withdrawal of the emergency is "one step", and much more must be done to restore democracy in the Maldives.

۱n

- Even this statement of India has been unwelcomed by Maldives claiming that the events of the past couple of months were "internal political matters".
- With military exchanges, a free trade agreement with China and a slew of Chinese infrastructure investments in place, the ruling government clearly considers itself sufficiently insulated from any counter-moves by India.
- In this regard India has been wise to keep its counsel and not over-react to the recent events.
