What was government's response to the scam?

 $n\n$

\n

• The government, soon after state-owned Punjab National Bank's fraud case, accused the RBI for its supervisory failures.

۱n

 \bullet It also blamed the bankers and auditors for their shortfalls. $\ensuremath{\backslash n}$

What are the RBI's concerns?

 $n\n$

\n

- RBI governor made mention of RBI's warnings about possible risks, but said that the PNB's internal systems failed to take note of it.
- In response to the government's accusation, the RBI governor Urjit Patel pointed out the limitations to RBI's power.
- He highlighted the issues such as -\n

\n

i. the absence of powers to remove the directors on the management of PSU banks who are appointed by the government

۱n

ii. the lack of power to force a merger or trigger liquidation of a state-owned bank

\n

 $_{\text{iii.}}$ the limited legal authority for RBI to hold these bank boards accountable

 $n\n$

۱n

• The government, the owner of public sector banks, still control a dominant share of the country's banking business.

\n

• RBI Governor pointed out that the banking regulatory powers were not 'ownership neutral' in India.

\n

• This is possibly why the RBI could not fully exercise its powers to crack down on corporate governance issues at state-owned banks.

\n

• A system of dual regulation, by the finance ministry in addition to RBI, has resulted in ineffective banking regulation.

۱n

 \bullet Patel urged the government to strengthen the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 to give RBI enough power to regulate PSU banks. \n

What is the way forward?

 $n\n$

\n

• The RBI's stance is valid, given the discomfort with knee-jerk reactions and the blame games since the fraud came to light.

\n

 \bullet The greater challenge is governance reform in banks.

\n

• The government should swiftly settle the issue of separation of ownership and regulatory control.

۱n

• It can consider making the regulatory powers of RBI fully "ownership neutral".

\n

• Besides, privatisation does appear to be an easy option to address some of the concerns.

۱n

• But it is important to see whether such an option should be exercised during a crisis.
