

SC Rules on Road Safety

What is the issue?

\n\n

\n

- The Supreme Court recently pronounced its verdict on a PIL regarding road safety.

\n

- The order despised the apathy over enforcing road safety rules.

\n

\n\n

What are the court's earlier directions?

\n\n

\n

- The periodic directions of the Supreme Court have not produced any dramatic change in the official attitude.

\n

- Even the setting up of the “Committee on Road Safety” by the court to help implement its recommendations hasn’t brought good results.

\n

- Currently, in its order passed for a PIL, the court provided for actionable points with deadlines for implementation.

\n

- Importantly, all states and union territories have been asked to announce a “Road Safety Action Plan” by March 2018.

\n

- A “Road Safety Fund” in all states and UTs has also been mandated, the corpus for which would come from traffic fines collected.

\n

\n\n

What are the structural flaws?

\n\n

\n

- The absence of a scientific approach to accident investigation in India remains a major factor in fixing responsibility.

\n

- Other than the failed attempt to create a “National Road Safety & Traffic Management Board”, no effort has been made in this regard.

\n

- The current SC orders also provide a road map to States to form District Road Safety Committees under the District Collectors.

\n

- This should ensure that someone is accountable when citizens file complaints on hazardous conditions.

\n

\n\n

What are the challenges?

\n\n

\n

- Around 1.5 lakh people died in accidents in 2016, which represents a 3.2% rise over the previous year.

\n

- The most effective measure to keep roads safe is enforcement of rules with zero tolerance to violations.

\n

- While stringent penalties are being called for, even the existing minor penalties are not being imposed.

\n

- Also, road conditions remain hazardous due to poor engineering.

\n

- Notably, only half of the accidental death victims had received insurance compensation.

\n

- All these are proof of the indifference in the system, and there is hence a need to make the system more responsive and responsible.
