Jhumur dance

Why in News?

Prime Minister will witness the world's biggest jhumur dance in history in Guwahati's Sarusajai Stadium at the Jhumoir Binandini 2025 to mark the 200th anniversary of Assam's tea industry.

- Jhumur is the dance of Assam's traditional 'tea-tribes'.
- Tea Tribes - The term "tea tribe" refers to a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic community of tea garden workers and their descendants.
- These people came from Central India mostly from present-day Jharkhand, Odisha, Chhattisgarh, and West Bengal and settled in Assam in the 19th century to work in the tea gardens.
- These tea gardens were setup by British.
- They currently have Other Backward Classes (OBC) status in the state, although they have long been fighting for Scheduled Tribe (ST) status.
- Tribes such as the Munda or the Santhal, a part of the larger tea garden community in Assam, have ST status in the states where they originally came from.
- Socio-economically, however, remain marginalised, and among the poorest in the state.
- Jhumur dance - The tea garden community brought a motley collection of cultural practices from their homelands to Assam including the jhumur tradition.
- Jhumur is the folk dance of the Sadan ethnolinguistic group, who trace their origins to the Chotanagpur region.
- Today it occupies a central place as "tea garden festivals" or festivals celebrated by tea garden workers in Assam.
- The most important ones are the Tushu Puja and Karam Puja, which celebrate the oncoming harvest.
 - Women are the main dancers and singers, while
 - Men play traditional instruments such as madal, dhol, or dhak (drums), cymbals, flutes, and shehnai.
- The attire worn varies from community to community, although red and white sarees are particularly popular among women.
- Dancers stand shoulder-to-shoulder and move in coordinated patterns with precise footwork while singing couplets in their native languages Nagpuri, Khortha and Kurmali, borrow from Assamese.

- These songs tell the history of migration and the exploitative labour relations that mark their lives.
- It aided them in not only retaining aspects of their culture and identity but also in making sense of the world their ancestors found themselves in.

- He later enrolled at Bareilly College to study law, but he dropped out.

Pagri Sambhal Jatta movement

- Ajit Singh started the Pagri Sambhal Jatta movement in 1907 in protest against 3 agricultural laws imposed by the British.
- ‘Pagri Sambhal Jatta’ literally translates to ‘take care of your turban, o farmer’, and invokes self-respect and honour.
- The 3 laws
 - The Punjab Land Alienation Act, 1900
 - The Punjab Land Colonisation Act, 1906
 - The Doab Bari Act, 1907.

The Punjab Land Alienation Act	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It restricted the rights of farmers to sell or mortgage their land freely. • It favored moneylenders and landlords, making it difficult for peasants to escape debt.
Punjab Land Colonization Act	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It gave the British control over land ownership in the newly developed Chenab Colony (now in Pakistan). • Farmers had to transfer their land to the British government upon death instead of passing it to their heirs.
Doab Bari Act, 1907	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It took away farmers’ ownership rights over their lands, effectively reducing them to contract workers.

- Along with this, the British raised taxes on agricultural land and water for irrigation, increasing the financial burden on farmers.
- Many small farmers and peasants were forced into debt and land loss.
- Soon, farmers started protests against these laws, demanding their repeal.
- Ajit Singh and Kishan Singh (Bhagat Singh’s father) formed the Bharat Mata Society, a revolutionary group for farmers.
- Lala Lajpat Rai and other leaders also supported the movement.
- The slogan “Pagri Sambhal Jatta” was coined by Banke Dayal, a nationalist poet, and became a symbol of resistance.
- The movement inspired future protests, including the Ghadar Movement and Bhagat Singh’s revolutionary activities.
- Both Ajit Singh and Lala Lajpat Rai were arrested in May 1907 and exiled to Burma (now Myanmar), but due to public pressure, were released in November 1907.
- Ajit Singh, however, escaped to Persia, then Turkey, Brazil, Germany, and later settled in Italy.
- He worked closely with revolutionaries in Europe and was associated with Lala Hardayal and Madame Cama.
- He came to India in March 1947 but died in Dalhousie due to ill health on August 15,

1947, the day India got independence.

- From 2021 onwards, February 23 has been observed as Pagri Sambhal Diwas.
- In 2021, farmers were protesting at the Delhi borders seeking repeal of the now-scrapped 3 farm laws, and hence had observed Ajit Singh's birth anniversary as Pagri Sambhal Diwas.
