- b. Both Statement-I and Statement-II are correct and Statement-II is not the correct explanation for Statement-I
- c. Statement-I is correct but Statement-II is incorrect
- d. Statement-I is incorrect but Statement-II is correct

Answer : c

Fixed-Dose Combination (FDC) Drugs

The government has recently banned 156 fixed-dose combination (FDC) drugs, including popular medicines such as Cheston Cold and Foracet, used for cold and fever and pain respectively.

- FDCs are medicines that have more than one active ingredient (chemical compounds) in medicines that have an effect on the body in a single pill, capsule or shot.
- They FDCs are meant for patients with conditions such as tuberculosis and diabetes for which they need to take multiple medicines regularly.
- FDCs reduce the number of pills the patient needs to take each day and help improve adherence to the treatment.
- Sometimes, however, an FDC could mean that a patient ends up taking a drug that they may not need.
- Example - Cheston Cold contains paracetamol for fever, cetirizine for allergy relief and phenylephrine for nasal decongestion.
- So, while this drug will help people who have these symptoms because of allergies, it is not really required for a bacterial infection.
- The FDCs recently banned by the government of India are:
 - Several combinations of enzymes used for treatment of gastrointestinal problems,
 - Combinations of anti-allergic medicines such as levocetirizine with nasal decongestant, syrups that break down mucus and paracetamol,
 - Combinations used for the treatment of skin conditions, including menthol with aloe vera,
 - Aloe vera with vitamin E in the form of medicated soap,
 - Silver sulfadiazine (used for burns) with an antiseptic agent, aloe extract and vitamin,
 - Calamine lotion with aloe and a natural substance (for skin irritation),
 - Combination of a migraine medicine with one to prevent nausea and
 - Combination of the drug mefenamic acid that are usually used for menstrual cramps with anti-fibrotic medicine tranexamic acid.
- These “irrational” combinations have been banned because they contain ingredients that either do not work well together or have ingredients that are not needed by patients to be taken together.
- Reasons for the ban - Unnecessary consumption of antibiotics can lead to increase in antibiotic resistance.
- To control the price on essential medicines, since companies are known to create FDCs to escape the pricing control mechanism.
