Evaluate the experience of three decades of women's reservation in local government and discuss the impact it offers to Indian democracy (250W)

The constitutional amendment acts of 72nd and 73rd are the landmark amendments to women development politically in India, which gave 33.1% of reservation for women in local government

Experience of women's reservation in local government

→ Development in women political stand

India stands in 36th position in women political equality because of this reservation.

→ women concerns were opened in society and motive towards passing women Bill.

eg: Age of Marriage, Domestic violence etc

→ Motivated towards women education and Health.

→ As women are Major 'mistake rectifiers' in Indian families, became easy task to rectify the society / Better rectification Capability

→ Demand towards women health and children health lead to employment of women and health of society eg: Anganwadi's empowerment

→ Can understand the society sensitive areas.

→ Gave independence to women

Reservation Lenom to Indian Democracy

① Coordination of male and female arms together can only give meaningful democracy

② women were given unimportance in Indian part as they thought women are not Capable e.g. Razika [Mughal queen] is proven wrong

Lesson learned from local government Reservation, that are to be rectified in the current women Bill 2023.

- ① It is only few women claim that are going to get benefited
- ② It is not the government that should push but even society coordination is necessary i.e., not many women are getting eligible voting as they are women.
- ③ Under husband Rule : which have been seen in local government where women stand and wins for husband and work on the words of husband.

summary

It is high time for India to give equal priority for the women and encourage the women by learning from small neighbouring countries like Bangladesh, Pakistan who are working Better than India in political equality
