

20/7/22

2

① Chile's draft constitution is an example of a framework for an enduring & egalitarian democracy?

Intro - In 2019, wave of protest engulfed the Chile due to country's

- mis-governance
- social inequality
- cost of living

Drafting Constitution -

① The demand of protesters was to replace the Pinochet's constitution of Chile with people's constitution which is been framed by themselves.

② The provisions of the draft constitution incorporates valuable themes keeping their past of wisdom in mind.

③ The constitution framing members were consists of ~~the~~ people from sexual minorities, socio-economically backward, indigenous people.

(4) The huge diverse members in constitutional drafting committee led to a constitution which is both visionary & inclusive

Constitutional Frameworks -

(1) They included provisions like socio-economic rights - [right to housing, education, health] under bill of rights.

(2) The drafting committee also took examples from constitution across world like [1996 - South Africa, Colombia] & India]

(3) They recognised that governance should be strengthened by keeping the legislature & executive independent.

(4) Institutions like (Human right Commission, electoral Commission, Information Commission) should be set up by their members.

(5) They even acknowledged the effect of climate change & <sup>constitutionalised</sup> ~~made~~ the international environmental law. ~~was~~ ~~on~~ It also guarantees Right to nature something that is being explored by countries like [NZ, IND]

⑥ The draft constitution not only based on wisdom of past also it is a future facing document which incorporated provision [Right to Digital Connectivity]

Conclusion -

The people had framed the Constitution, serves as the framework for an enduring & egalitarian democracy. It will be hailed as a historic triumph.