

Shimla agreement of 1972 was much more than a peace treaty seeking to reverse consequence of 1971 war?

Ans- Shimla agreement is a peace agreement held between Indian prime minister Indira Gandhi and Pakistan president Zulfikar Ali Bhutto in July 1972 to alter the consequences of 1971 war.

This Shimla agreement is playing an important role in peace between India and Pakistan.

- respect to each other's unity.
- respect to political independence.
- non interference to each other's territory.

This diagram shows that the Shimla agreement impacts in various types of dimensions and this agreement creates one type of neighbourhood feeling between two countries.

abterc the 1971 warc this simla agreement much more dominance because.

- This agreement talk about the LOC - line of control in Jammu.
- this agreement creat a brotherhood nation among.
- prohibited conflict.

so the simla agreement is a powerful weapon to reduce conflict between two nation.