

There are various challenges faced by the Indian Parliamentary System amidst the recent reshuffling of cabinet council with varied expertise / professionals from various sectors is the most robust way to tackle the parliamentary challenges

① Avoidance of Conflicts / protests / disputes :-
 Bureaucrats / professionals possess good managerial / skills / characteristics which avoids ~~team work~~ conflicts / protest & disputes among the members.

② Good Team work :- Bureaucrats / professionals emphasis on team work & work coherently towards the goal.

③ SEAMLESS IMPLEMENTATION OF WELFARE

Schemes? They possess adequate knowledge & managerial skills in implementation of schemes. They do not carry any political baggage. Their vision seems not to be biased.

④

COMPLETE EXPERTISE KNOWLEDGE:- Professionals with expertise knowledge make them to analyse in & out of a particular crisis which enhances the policy making decisions.

⑤

BETTER CRISIS MANAGEMENT:- Their ideas do remain plausible & towards short term goal like elected representatives. The.

⑥

BETTER KNOWLEDGE MAKING OUT PROMISES THAT ARE FEASIBLE:- With better analytical skills they are capable of understanding the promises ^{made to public} can be feasible or not. They don't simply let out lucid promises.

CONCLUSION:- Better balance between elected representatives & bureaucrats to overcome professional is a vital choice to overcome myriad parliamentary challenges.