

The Supreme Court guideline have laid down a clear and cogent process for creating accountable citizen centric police force. Explain

Ans:- → After the petition filed by the Prakash Singh. The Supreme Court intervened and passed a verdict on guidelines to citizen centric police.

→ Those guideline give a good bonding b/t police and citizen to acknowledge the complaints. and the cases solved easily by police with this approach

→ The police works are to find the crime and to stop the crime, law in order in control and investigate the crime.

→ Other than, those, the citizen can give the details of their house to the police portal and to safe guard their property when they are out of station.

→ These type of process ensures the citizen secure environment in the social interest.

- A citizen at his interest to overcome the conflict among themselves. they can file a case. which the police person call the term as FIR (first information report)
 - This cell or station is available in every district of state and the authority vested in police administration
 - This guidelines changed in to police reforms and even at the night times police are patrolling the area ~~for~~ to stop a crime, smuggling activity. by this ways the citizen's ~~feel~~ are protected.
 - Thus, the trust of police work ~~and~~ is enjoyed by the citizen by this guidelines.
