

Integral Humanism can help resolve various kinds of problems existing today by reconciling nationalism & Internationalism. Elucidate.

The term Integral Humanism was first coined by Deendayal Upadhyaya which emphasises on the indigenous economic model that puts human being at centre of development.

Significance of Integral Humanism in reconciling nationalism & Internationalism.

Integral Humanism is based on idea of human development on lines of "Oneness" rather than concept of western world such as capitalism, democracy etc.

Today when world is adopting the national interest on cost of the others, it has become more disastrous to compete with each other.

Here where the concept of Integral Humanism comes in to promote brotherhood not only nationally but also Internationality.

Some International Issues that can be resolved by Integral Humanism are :-

- !- Trade war, by realising the need of sustainable development.
- !- Hatred, communalism, like in India on Hindu-Muslim issue.
- !- Social upliftment of poor, equality in income
- !- Human trafficking, child labour, women distress etc.

Countries by joining hand can resolve most pressing issues exist today.

Integral Humanism emphasises on the concept of "Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam" It urge to ignore the discrimination based on Race, Caste, Creed etc.

An impressive example of Integral Humanism can be seen in efforts of all the countries of UN towards climate change challenges where through common & shared responsibility countries work together.

With this the discrimination in the world could eradicate & books of oneness will grow for humanity where all living creature co-exist peacefully.
