

14/10/21

Mains Daily Test Series

IAS Parliament

To address the various socio-economic issues spread across the country, ~~can be~~ the combination of bureaucrats and elected representatives can bring in a lasting change and effectiveness.

* Socio-economic issues in India is spread across education, health sector, sanitation food security etc.

Effective steps :-

* In the health sector, the all round inclusion of more state specific policies can be decided upon by bureaucrats who work at grass root levels.

* Policies where subject expertise is required can be aided by respective field experts.

eg: Policies related to space sector in India can be made effective by seeking opinions from the engineers or research experts added to Parliament.

* The Parliamentary form of democracy with a balanced representation of political experts and subject experts can implement policies attributing to socio economic policies

Example: ① effective policy implementation was witnessed when India liberalised its economy in 1990.

② In the case of India's vaccination policy, grand level decisions were taken ~~in field~~ by respective experts.

In future, with effective policy decisions influenced by bureaucrats and elected representatives, India can achieve its trillion dollar economy as the report from International Monetary Fund (IMF) says that it's one of the fastest growing economies.