Explain the various governmental actions that are required to end the practise of child marriage in the country.

The National Family Health Survey-4 in 2015-16 shows that one in four girl child get married before attainment of age 18.

Necessary actions should be taken to prevent children being married for sake of money, safety, etc.

Possible measures:

* Government can make rules more stricter and make children aware of it from their school education.

* Behavioural change - High schools should taught boys and girls about future education and make them broad minded such that not to marry before 18 and not to ~~take~~ marry a girl of less than 18.

* Accessibility to colleges and bringing regional colleges especially girls only colleges will make parents comfortable to send their girl child to higher education.

* Government benefits for educated woman, safe working environment for woman will sharply increase employed woman and reduce early marriages.

Many incidents occurred often on child marriages. People commonly believe that late marriage may lead to health problems etc. They should be taught / advised and only behavioural change will help to put more girl children on higher education.
